Attend Luncheon

Productivity Earns Salute

Virginia farmers helped earn national recognition in President Nixon's recent White House salute to Agriculture, according to James S. Gillespie, Virginia farm program leader.

The President, in a unique tribute to agricultural achievement, said, "thanks to American Agriculture for making us the best fed, the best clothed people in America; thanks to American agriculture for providing the basic industry that is essential for any Nation to be strong."

He cited specifically a 300 percent per man-hour productivity increase for agriculture in the last 20 years, comparing it with the 150 percent increase recorded by other American industry.

Mr. Gillespie, who is Chairman of the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee, said all Virginians should recognize that this National Salute to Agriculture is a salute to Virginia farmers as well as those in the other 49 states.

In Virginia, peanut per-acre yields have increased 65 percent, from 1,850 to 3,060, during the period 1960-70. With the introduction of a new variety, wheat yields have jumped 69 per cent, from 26 to 44 bushels per acre, in the past ten years. Likewise corn yields increased 67 percent, from 46 to 77 bushels, in the period 1959-69. Burley tobacco increased from 2,016 pounds to 2,545 pounds during the 1965-70 period. Less dramatic in these recent years has been the increase in flue-cured tobacco from 1,590 to 1,805 pounds, as this commodity has been since 1965 under an acreage-poundage program which provides incentives for quality production rather than maximum per-acre production.

"This is the kind of productivity the President was talking about when he said recent agricultural statistics are the most exciting, the most dramatic, of all American industry," Gillespie said.

"In our farm program agency, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, here in Virginia we are of course most interested in the crops under the set-aside farm programs, corn, grain sorghum, wheat, and cotton, those under marketing quota programs, tobacco and peanuts, plus crops which are eligible for the loan, principally soybeans, barley, oats and rye.

"Some 40,000 farms in Virginia are participating this year in the new market-oriented set-aside farm programs. Some of the restraints on production and kinds of crops which were imposed in previous years have been removed, as was noted by President Nixon recently in a national speech on agriculture, Mr. Gillespie said.

"The President told the Nation that American farmers have proven their ability to capitalize on new opportunities and can compete successfully whenever they have the chance to compete. Mr. Nixon said he is determined to see that agriculture has that chance," the ASC Committee Chairman said.

The White House Salute to Agriculture not only drew national attention to farming, but also served to concentrate efforts to better American agriculture's competitive position, according to Gillespie.

President Nixon told the Salute to Agriculture audience: It is a rule in a free society that whoever produces more should be compensated for more. The income per capita of those who live on America's farms has gone up in the last 20 years. But in terms of sharing in this increased productivity, those who live on America's farms, those who produce from America's farms, have not had the rewards from increasing productivity that their colleagues who work in American industry have had for their increase in productivity.

"It is that problem that we have been addressing ourselves to. It is that problem in which, of course, we need cooperation among all branches of Government, the Administration, the Congress, and the Farm Community to see that America's farmers receive their fair share of a dramatically increasing productivity."

Fund Approved For Research

RICHMOND – The Old Dominion Eye Bank, an organization entirely supported by the Lions Clubs of Virginia, will fund a new research project to study the possible use of fibers from the human umbilical cord for sight - restoring corneal implants.

Announcement of the project was made today by R. Kenneth Hudgins, Executive Director of the eye bank.

For years, human eye tissue, donated on death, has been used for corneal transplants to restore the vision of those whose blindness was caused by corneal damage or disease.

The short supply of such tissue has always been a major problem and science has long sought a synthetic substitute.

Recently, according to the eye bank announcement, primary research and investigation into the possible use of films and gels of cross -linked collagen and hyaluric acid from human umbilical cord have shown very encouraging promise of effective use.

Because these two substances are normal constituents of the cornea, Hudgins said, films made from these natural materials offer great potential in prosthesis, not only in ophthalmology, but in surgery generally.

The stated advantages of the umbilical cord as a source of these fibers are (1) the fineness of the fibers which results in a perfectly transparent gel and (2) the abundant source of supply.

Great Breakthrough Possible

Although results are not likely to be achieved on a short-term basis, Hudgins stated, the Eye Bank is prepared to fund this specialized research until definite evaluation can be made, including the effects of aging of such material when it is used.

Director of the project will be Dr. I. Gordon Fels of the Virginia Institute for Scientific Research. Dr. Ende Balazs of the Biomedical Institute will be associated with Dr. Fels in the Old Dominion Eye Bank project.

Hudgins said that, if even a measure of success should be achieved as a result of the new project - and there is reason for real hope for such success -Old Dominion Eye Bank and the Lions of Virginia will have made a major contribution to restoration of sight throughout the world.

SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST
Rufus B. McDannel, Pastor
Sabbath School Lesson 6 for August 7, 1971
Subject. The Mystery of Missions
Scripture Text, "Having made known unto us the mystery of His will, according to His good pleasure which He hath purposed in Himself". Eph. 1:9.
The term "Mystery" as applied to the gospel has the meaning of "secret," and it is so translated in the Revised Standard and some other versions. The mystery of redemption is something the human mind is incapable of discovering and can never know without a revelation. We are discussing here the "Mystery" or "secret" of God in changing wayward men so that their lives produce the fruits of righteousness. It is the mission of the church to reveal to a lost world the "mystery" of the purpose of God . . . Tracing the term 'Mystery" through such passages as Mark 4:11; Eph. 6:19, Col. 1:26; 4:3, it becomes apparant that the "mystery"of God is His determinaton to restore man through the plan of redemption. This purpose reaches out to all through redeemed men revealing the mystery of God through lives consecrated to Him and filled with the power of the Holy Spirit.
Lesson Outline: 1. Christ, the Only Saviour, John 14:6. 2. Salvation Provided for All. John 1:-9 1 Tim. 2:4. 3. The Need for Preaching the gospel. Rom. 10:-17. 4. Personal Responsibility in Missionary Service. Ezek.-

Pastor And Mrs. Lucas In Bible Conference

This past Sunday night following the evening services, Pastor and Mrs. Earnie W. Lucas of the Bible Baptist Church, left for Memphis, Tenn. to engage in a Bible Conference at the Memphis Baptist Temple for this week.

Rev. Lucas is one of the scheduled speakers and the list of pastors that will be speaking are men from all over the country.

Pastor Lucas will be returning this Saturday. He will be back to be in all the services this coming Sunday morning and Sunday night.

33:7-9. 5. The Power of the Holy Spirit Promised Zech. 4:-6 6. The unlimited Scope of Missionary Achievement John-14:12.

Jesus saith to doubting Thomas, "I am the way, the truth and the life; No man cometh unto the Father, but by me", John 14: 6 "All the alters and sacrifices, the traditions and inventions whereby men hope to earn salvation, are fallacies . . .Christ is the only sin bearer, the only sin offering S. D. A. Bible Commentary Vol. 7 p. 915.Read first Timothy 2 chapter verses 1-9) "Sufficient light and evidence will be given to every soul. If men are overcome by the enemy, it is because they have hardened their hearts, refusing to hear the voice of God". Special Testimonies Series B, No. 2 p. 50. Some will respond directly to the appeals of God by His Spirit, But it is evident that God wills that this revelation be conveyed by humanity in preaching the gospel. (Read Rom. 17-21) "So faith comes from what is heard, a l what is heard comes by the preaching of Christ" RSV. "There are many who need the ministration of loving Christian hearts. Many have gone down to ruin who might have been saved if their neighbors, common men, and women, had put forth personal effort for them". The Desire of Ages, p.141

We cannot do the work of Christ without the Spirit of Christ. But this has been fully provided, as is attested by the promises of Christ (John 14-16) and the outpouring of the Holy Spirit on the early church at Pentecost (Acts 2) in John 16:-12 Jesus said "Verily, Verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater than these shall he do; because I go unto My Father" May we all be ready to meet Him when He comes again.

Harvest Service At Pamplin

In a service dedicated to thanksgiving for a good growing season, members of Beale Memorial Presbyterian Church, Pamplin and Buffalo Presbyterian Church, Prince Edward county, brought eggs, canned goods and produce to a church service on Sun., July 25.

The Rev. Dr. John C. Hinchcliff is the minister.

All of the harvest ingathering was taken to Camp Hat Creek, the Presbyterian camp located at Hat Creek, near Brookneal, Campbell county, which is a camp offering facilities, services and planned camping sessions for adults and children of the 81 churches of Appomattox Presbytery.

Two other churches in the Pamplin Circuit are planning a similar harvest ingathering on Sunday, August 15. Dr. Hinchcliff is also the minister there.

Camp Hat Creek was given sixty pounds of potatoes, several dozen eggs, fresh tomatoes, roasting ears, squash and a variety of canned vegetables.

A college loan from Fidelity National Bank.

If your son or daughter wants to go to college and you can't free up the cash right now, we can. We can do it with any one of a number of programs designed to lighten your financial load.

For example, you can choose a plan that lets you prepay college costs. Or a low cost loan that, in effect, is a pay-as-you-go program. And there's an extended payment plan that spreads educational costs comfortably over several years. Then there's a government guaranteed loan that requires no repayment until after graduation.

You can elect optional insurance coverage, too, that means the money will be there even if you aren't.

The important thing to know is this. Your boy or girl can start to college this Fall.

If you'll start by talking with us.
